Chairman Palmer Calls For Swift Action From Score Of Volunteer Canvassers

Before we take up the matter of new business, it seems that there are some matters left over from our last meeting, and so the Monday Morning Quarterbacks will come to order. Yeah—order—out of chaos.

The system by which we pick such teams as California to win over such teams as U. S. C. is going to have to be revised. Of course, if you follow the selections of other experts, you all ready know that we were not alone on the end of the limb. No, there were four or five others.

One of our readers—the one with the wooden leg—thought we were exactly right in expecting Mr. Allison's boys to defeat The Jones Family by two touchdowns, and then, after it was all over, he suggested that henceforth, when we think California is going to beat U. S. C., we should publicly pick the Trojans to win.

Well, if our predictions have any hearing on the situation, we'll be glad to make the change but we notice that a lot of others of the high and mighty bit the dust or the mud on Saturday, too.

As our other reader observed at a special Sunday meeting of the Monday Morning Quarterbacks, you see lots of good teams that go along swell, and then they have a bad day and can't do a thing.

Before we adjourn, we might consider the suggestion of A. Alumnus, who suggests, "The Bears looked good against Washington and Oregon, but when you take on U. S. C. for the third one in the row, you've met three tough teams, and probably the toughest one last."

80 Per Cent Of Electors Will Vote, Estimated

With 8,432 registered for tomorrow's election, County Clerk Arthur J. Kotzke estimates that a vote of about 6,700, or 80 per cent, will be recorded in the county.

"I am basing the estimate upon the interest shown in absent voters' ballots," the clerk reports, "although eighty per cent will be an exceptionally heavy vote. There are 272 absentee voters."

Although the courthouse will be closed during election day, the county clerk will be at his desk and invites election officers to reach him by telephone in the event that there are any questions concerning the conduct of the election.

PRIZES FOR BEST TREE TRIMMING

Merchants' Committee Invites Placerville Residents To Enter Decorating Contest

Considerable interest is being shown among the business firms regarding the decorating of the town, getting display windows ready early and other plans to create the "Christmas Spirit" according to the joint merchants committee which held their second meeting last Friday evening at the Bank of America.

Plans were laid for the merchants Christmas program, beginning with the complete decoration of Main Street during the week of November 14.

All merchants are asked to co-operate by having their Christmas display windows in by Thursday, December 1st, or as soon thereafter as possible.

Although in this regard, it was decided by the committee, that each merchant for his own benefit, would want to have the best looking window, but there would not be any compensation for prizes. This is a change from the first meeting held, at which time it was planned to hold a window display contest.

Of interest to the residents of Placerville are the plans for the "most outstanding yard Christmas decoration contest" which is open to the public.

A total of $25.00 cash prizes is being offered to first, second and third winners, adjudged the best in the city limits of Placerville. First prize $15.00; second, $7.50; third, $2.50. Rules, as outlined by the committee, are simple to follow: Any resident, within the city limits may enter the contest, not later than December 10th, by leaving his name and address at the Bank of America or this newspaper office.

You may decorate all or any portion of the yard; living or cut Christmas trees. Use your own initiative in arranging an outstanding Christmas yard. Colored lights, spraying trees, artificial snow (if necessary), etc. Anything you care to do, but get in and take part. Do something to make your yard look like Christmas is coming. It will be fun; and will make the town an outstanding spectacle, the committee suggests.

In addition to the three top awards, there are to be several other prizes, of merchandise or merchandise orders.

Judging will begin December 12 and continue through that week, so all contestants should be ready by that date. Awards will be made and winners announced immediately thereafter.

To finance this Christmas promotion, program merchants are being asked to subscribe to a fund to raise at least $250. Rex Gaskins is the representative of the committee who is calling on the merchants for donations.

COUGARS LOSE SATURDAY AT JACKSON; PLAYER'S LEG IS BROKEN

The high school Cougars lost a one-sided game, 20 to 0 against Jackson Saturday and suffered the loss of another player for the season, Joe Shepard.

Shepard's leg was broken in a scrimmage during the game. He was the second major casualty of the year, the Cougars previously having lost Truman Ahlstrom, as a result of a similar injury.

A series of lesser "bad breaks" sent the Cougars against Jackson a greatly weakened team.

Nic Fossati came up from the Bay District to spend Sunday at Smith Flat.

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — New Deal prestige, pensions and liberal-conservative issues today attracted national attention to California's spectacular election campaign which closes tomorrow.

There were 17 contests in California's 20 congressional districts. Three incumbent Republican congressmen were elected at the primary, leaving 13 Democrats and one Republican to battle for their seats tomorrow.

There was less competition in the state contests for secretary of state, controller, attorney general and two board of equalization posts. Eight of the twenty state senator positions

NO. 1 SUPPLANTS LABOR BRAWLING WITH LABOR BARGAINING

New Deal Claims California

47 States Take Part In Tuesday Election; GOP Hopes For Major Gains

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—The general election campaign closes today with indications that in tomorrow's voting the Republican party may make its first important gains since 1928.

Political significance of Republican expansion will depend on how many offices are shifted to the G. O. P. and where.

This election will take place in 47 states. Maine held its general election September 12, electing a Republican governor and three Republican members of the house of representatives; no change.

Everyone claimed victory was just around the corner. Works Progress Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, back from a swing around the country, told President Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N. Y., that Michigan and California were safe for the New Deal.

Rural California—at Salinas, Stockton, Grass Valley and many other battlefronts—has felt the disastrous impact of "the march inland," led by "goon squads" and radical agitators.

There can be no argument over the fact that California needs to supplant collective brawling with collective bargaining; that it needs to learn to "live and let live" and that it must crack down on labor leaders drunk with power, who have forgotten that liberty is not license and that privileges beget responsibilities.

To meet that need, Proposition No. 1 on the November ballot was fashioned. It does not prohibit collective bargaining; it does not place unfair restrictions on labor unionism; it does not deny labor the right to strike, nor the right to fight for the welfare of its members. But it does protect the welfare of the innocent bystander—the general public; it does deprive communists and radical firebrands of the right to seize property, to interfere with the orderly movement or shipment of crops. It does provide for a new era of law and order. And for that reason, if no other, California's farming industry—and all right-thinking Californians—should be one hundred per cent for it.

Proposition No. 1, in brief, prohibits:

Interference with the free use of highways and wharves.

Mass picketing.

Picketing by outsiders, not a party to

$50,000 Fire At McCloud

Drying Shed, Yards Of Lumber Company Burn; 12,000,000 Feet Of Boards Destroyed

MCLOUD, (UP)—Twelve million feet of high grade lumber were destroyed in a fire which was brought under control this morning at the McCloud River Lumber Company plant.

J. D. Hennessy, general manager of the mill, estimated the damage would exceed $50,000 "and probably more."

Hundreds of men joined in the all-night battle to save the mill. Fire fighting equipment was called from Redwood, Dunsmuir, Yreka, Mt. Shasta and other neighboring towns, in addition to forest service apparatus. The fire was visible for 50 miles.

A drying shed was the only mill structure to be burned. The fire was discovered at 8:30 p. m., last night in the 900-foot drying shed and was roaring into seven giant lumber piles before fire-fighters could be called.

"VACATION" FROM JAIL
ASKED FOR TULSA
MURDERER

OKLAHOMA CITY, (AP)—A six-months "vacation" from prison routine was in prospect today for Phil Kennamer, 23, who lived a fast life among Tulsa's smart set until three years ago when he was convicted of the slaying of his society friend, John Gorrell, Jr.

It was a plea by Kennamer's father, Federal Judge Franklin E. Kenner, that resulted in the granting of the leave of absence by the state pardon and parole board yesterday.

Kennamer's plea, however, was not for his son, but for the youth's mother. The judge, noted as a disciplinarian, told the board that Mrs. Kennamer's health was failing and that she needed her son's companionship on a trip to Arizona, where she will attempt to regain her health.

The board stipulated that Kennamer must first undergo a sanity examination to determine whether he is mentally fit to be free. As soon as the sanity test is made, Gov. E. W. Marland will give his official sanction to the leave. The pardon board will select a guardian to be with Kennamer until he returns to prison.

3 MONTHS IN JAIL AND
RESTITUTION ORDERED IN FORGERY CASE

C. O. Dorman, who had pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery involving a check for $2,250 issued to Harry Balderston, of Georgetown, was sentenced to serve three months in the county jail when he appeared Thursday afternoon in Superior Court before Judge H. Thompson.

Dorman had made application for probation, and the application was granted, conditioned upon his serving the jail term and making full restitution of the amount of the check. He will be on probation for three years.

R. L. Deering and J. T. Forester, of the regional forest office, were visitors Friday afternoon at Eldorado Forest headquarters.

Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Kelly returned Sunday evening following a short vacation spent in the southern part of the state.

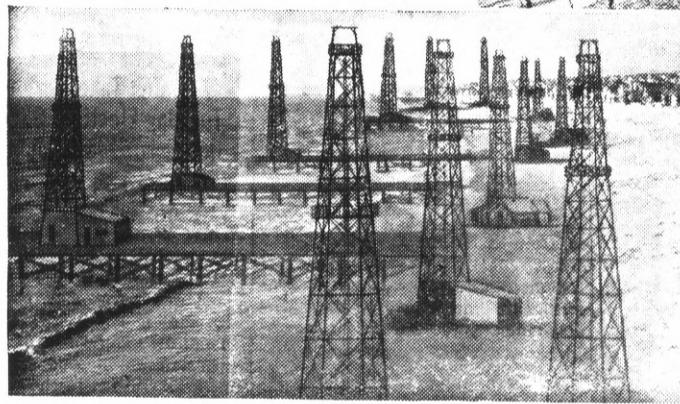

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Butts came up from Monterey over the weekend to spend a few days here looking after business interests.

One man's butter may be another man's parsnips or the other way round but you will find both parsnips and butter in the new books. We have selected a few we think are butter. They may be spinach to you, but we are doing our best.

If you like a good sea yarn be on the look out for McFee's "Derelicts."

His chief engineer Spenlove, a character who appears frequently in his books, tells the story that promises to hold your interest up to the last page. "First the Blade" by May Merrill Miller is another novel with a California setting — the San Joaquin Valley. Pioneer farming and the struggle against the San Francisco railroad barons supply plenty of action and interest. A riot to some readers and a pain to others will be S. S. Van Dine's "The Gracie Allen Murder Case," Sheila Kaye-Smith fans will welcome "The Valiant Woman." The title reminds one of her famous Joanna Godden.

Why doesn't someone write a novel about a dentist for a change. Doctors are the heroes again in two new novels. Francis Brett Young writes about an old doctor in "Doctor Bradley Remembers." On the eve of his retirement the old doctor recalls the chief events of his practice of fifty years. "Young Doctor Galahad" by Elizabeth Seiffert is the $10,000 prize novel. It is about the struggles of a young doctor in a middle western town.

Those who like Robert Nathan will lose no time in getting his latest "Journey of Tapiola." Tapiola is a Yorkshire terrier who picks up a few scraps of wisdom on the little trip he takes around New York. From the praise in the reviews Tapiola is going to be as popular as Scarlett O'Hara. We are deep in Mackinlay Kantor's last "long short," "The Noise of Their Wings."

We don't know how Mr. Kantor learned to write, whether by constant practice, by correspondent courses or if it came "just natural," but he certainly has the trick of surrounding you with atmosphere before you turn the first page. The wings are not those of air planes or angels, but passenger pigeons.

The "quints" are the heroines of a book by Dr. William Blatz called "The Five Sisters". It is a psychologist's report and will probably answer the question one hears so frequently — are the little girls alike in temperament as they are in looks? To skip from youth to age, our eleven chief justices are the heroes of a book called just that — "Our Eleven Chief Justices," by Kenneth B. Umbreit. It is an account of the men themselves and how they are making history.

Mark Sullivan whose books men always like to read has a new one with the unoriginal title "The Education of an American." But you can depend upon it that the contents will be original for Mark Sullivan knows the trick quite like no other writer of showing the reader how the past and

THIS is no time to neglect thrifit. It is no time to waste money. You do neither when you heat water by means of an Automatic Electric Water Heater. After all, it is just plain arithmetic, being proved in thousands of California homes, that you spend to save when you have an Automatic installed in your home. Consider this: If you are using a bothersome water-back in an incinerator, or if you resort to a tea kettle for hot water, every gallon so heated costs twice as much as it would if hot water were always on tap from the insulated tank of an Automatic Electric Water Heater.

You should also investigate this form of saving in your home. You should take advantage of the low prices of these truly modern Automatic Water Heaters. Prices have never been so low, and right now special easy-to-purchase terms are in effect.

Tuesday Vote To Test New Deal

Democrats had an unprecedented margin of 850,000 electors as Secretary of state Frank Jordan announced a record registration of 3,611,416.

Southern California was the mecca of nearly all major candidates today, since about 40 per cent of the state's total vote is concentrated in Los Angeles county alone. Bald Governor Merriam, one of the few remaining GOP state executives, headed for his home in Long Beach, where he will vote tomorrow. Olson votes in Los Angeles being a state senator from that county.

The south also held the answer to the pension problem, for thousands of elderly persons have migrated from eastern states to spend their final years in the mild climate. They are the backbone of "ham and eggs for Californians," the group which has contributed hundreds of thousands in pennies and dimes to put over their hope for final security.

The Book Mark

If you have sat in writing classes or read advice to would-be authors, you will recall that the most frequent advice is to look into your past and write something you know. It doesn't really have to be a very scarlet past to be made interesting. A book that demonstrates the success of this method is Bertha Damon's "Grandma Called it Carnal." Like the Clarence Day books—"Life With Father," etc., it is the sort of thing that the reader wants to keep quoting.

For those interested in advertising and who isn't in these days when it is so important to get one's money's worth, Helen Woodward's new book, "It's An Art," gives the low-down. If you want to know why your silk stockings stretch and your silk dresses shrink, if you want to know when to trust rayon and when to buy silk, or, why some materials clean so poorly, you will get the answers in Margaret Dana's guide to intelligent buying "Behind the Label."

And if you are fed up on the new titles, take down your copy of Mrs. Gaskell's "Cranford." If you haven't a copy order one for a quarter (Macmillan Pocket Classic), no home should be without it and read about a little village before the day of radio and labor saving devices. In Cranford it was a mark of respectability to own your own cow and those antiquated terms feminine decorum and maidenly reserve actually had a meaning.

No. 1 On Ballot Is Favored

the controversy. Coercion and intimidation of employees.

Secondary boycotts, such as a boycott against one person to compel him to boycott another person with whom he has no quarrel.

"Hot cargo," a practice by which one union compels all union men regardless of agreements, or satisfaction with their own working conditions to refuse to handle any commodity which the first union declares "unfair."

Sit-down strikes, which involve illegal seizure of property and which, if permitted, would lead to anarchy.

In short, Proposition No. 1 seeks to prohibit force and violence and to protect the public welfare.

Labor leaders opposing Proposition No. 1 make the statement in their official argument against the proposal that: "Organized labor has now arrived at the point where it is generally conceded to have the right to bargain collectively and to protect the rights of its members against imposition in all dealings with employers. Along with this position of equality has come the recognition by the leaders and the rank and file of organized labor of responsibilities which go with these now generally recognized rights."

With the first part of that statement, no fair-minded citizen has any quarrel. Labor does have the right to bargain collectively. And it should be protected in that right, as it is in Proposition No. 1. But with the second statement—that labor (particularly labor's leadership) has learned to accept its responsibilities—the facts are in violent disagreement. There has been no evidence of such acceptance of responsibility; quite to the contrary, there has been constant turmoil; constant affront to law and order. The rank and file of labor, we believe, disapprove of strong-arm methods just as much as the general public. And the rank and file worker, who wants paychecks rather than strike benefits, should join with agriculture and the public at large in disarming labor's dictators—in stripping them of their brass knuckles and their thugs and gangsters. California wants labor peace. Proposition No. 1 is the road to peace. Every farmer should support it.
